

The new name for PARSOL Online Licensing

26th August 2005

Cintra and Wandsworth are pleased to announce the new name for our licensing software is REGALION.

Why have we changed the name?

The Online Licensing software that is now being supported by the Wandsworth/Cintra partnership was originally designed and developed within the framework of the PARSOL National Project. This has given the product an excellent pedigree and has ensured that the software has been designed in a way that offers the closest possible match with local authority requirements.

However, with product ownership now transferred to Wandsworth Borough Council and the partnership with Cintra in place to deliver, support and further develop the software, it is important that it benefits from a clear and distinct identity to carry it forward and beyond the life of the National Projects for years to come.

Over the previous two years, the PARSOL National Project has produced a number of key products. Each of these products must now establish its own independent delivery path by looking to the future whilst giving due acknowledgement to its origins. We believe that REGALION (REGulation And LICensing ONLINE), a PARSOL solution, will be a market leading product for years to come.

What progress has been made since the product launch?

We are delighted with the response from the local authority community since the launch of the product only a few short weeks ago. Several authorities have already signed-up for the Cintra support and maintenance contract whilst many more have indicated a firm intention to proceed with an implementation in accordance with their own strategies and timescales. This is most encouraging and we look forward to welcoming and supporting more authorities in the coming months.

How do I get a copy?

Version 3 is the first to use the REGALION name and is only available to those authorities taking up the Cintra support and maintenance contract. Cintra can also provide access to an on-line demonstration environment, should you wish to evaluate the software before making a commitment. An earlier version may still be downloaded directly from the PARSOL website but this cannot be supported or recommended for deployment.

What additional support services are offered?

Cintra can offer a fixed price implementation service, based on your requirements. The system can be installed locally or you may prefer to opt for a centrally hosted service, backed by a separate Service Level Agreement. Version 3 now enables regional partnership-based deployment from a single technical architecture and we have already signed-up our first such partnership. Please contact Cintra for a wider range of related services.

Where can I find out more?

We are currently presenting the solution to a number of e-government partnerships and regional licensing forums. If you are interested in having a demonstration of the software, please contact Cintra.

There is also the opportunity to meet the team and have a look at the REGALION product at the CIEH conference in Cardiff from 6th-8th September and at the SOCITM conference in Brighton from 16th-18th October. Please visit these websites for more details:
